

Our Peer-to-Peer Networks meet both Online and in Person

They can help you:

- Connect you with your peers
- Navigate the NDIS
- Develop your NDIS Plan
- Find out information
- Link to providers

Our networks are facilitated by families, and meet regularly in the local community or through our online networks.

Connect With Our Peer Network

You can contact our Peer Network Coordinator, Ronnie (Veronica) Burkin at veronica@valuedlives.org.au to find out how you can connect with a local Peer-to-Peer Network, or if you are you interested in developing a Peer-to-Peer Network.

Our Framework

Our Peer-to-Peer Network Facilitators bring together interested people to learn and share knowledge, experience and connection in a friendly environment.

The framework that we use in our peer support initiative has been co-designed with individuals and families. We use a simple model to share stories, ideas and knowledge to work through any issues where a peer needs support and advice from the network.

The intent of peer support at Valued Lives is to provide an opportunity for a person and/or family to connect and share information with others; building the capacity of the person and/or family in order for them to exercise choice and control in their lives.

There are Peer-to-Peer Networks operating in metro NDIS trial sites, they are free to join and can provide invaluable support and information.

Peer-to-Peer Network groups currently operate in; Bayswater/Bassendean, Perth Hills, Cockburn and Armadale.

Valued Lives Peer Networks: Sharing Knowledge, Experience and Practical Support

Valued Lives Peer-to-Peer Support Networks are groups of people with lived experience of disability who help each other; they include people living with disability, their families and their supporters.

“Peer Networks gave me much needed support, guidance and confidence to undertake this life planning journey for my disabled daughter.”

Valued Lives' passion is to empower vulnerable people to have real choice, real control and a genuine voice in the design, planning and delivery of their own supports and services.
